SALEM STATE COLLEGE

OUR SEASON

To some the magical path of happiness is right up over the next hill.
To others it's a long hard journey that tests your strength and strong will.

To those of you who have it easy
don't totally relax.
You haven't begun to live your life
you need to know the facts.

But these facts of life cannot be taught in a way that will succeed
unless experience walks through your door.
All hearts must bend and bleed.

Now experience is not a harsh thing that we should cringe or fear.
It teaches us some valuable lessons it makes us wise and sincere.

And when those rough times come along
we all will get our share.
It's hard to look on the bright side
when no one seems to care.

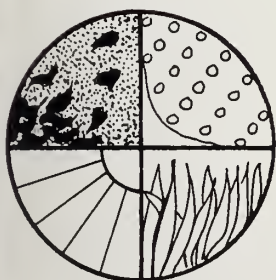

But faith must reign your heart and soul
for we're all here for a reason.
Though times we need to be consoled
we know we'll have our season.

SPORTS

SOCCER

The faces have changed, but the philosophy remains the same for Salem State soccer coach Nick Padovani. Bring in hordes of talented recruits to take care of the scoring, keep the defensive stability intact, and you'll produce consistent winners. At least that's the way things appear to be going after the opening day win over Kean College of New Jersey. The team seems to have changed few ingredients in the recipe for success that brought our booters a 17-2-1 record last year. The team's tri-captains, Joe O'Toole, Ted Przybylek and Aparicio Smart are the mainstays around which the defense is built this year. With some strong help from newcomer Tim McDermott, a Freshman stopper back, the defense held Kean to just four second half shots on net, while the offense broke a 0-0 halftime with two second half goals. "We were tired in the second half and when their goalie made that stop it really took a lot out of us.", Kean coach Ochrimenko said. "Salem is a strong, physical team."

FIELD HOCKEY

Salem State Field Hockey coach Mary Ellen McGee knew she had some talented new people coming in this fall and with her top two scorers from last year's 12-4-3 team gone she knew she'd be counting on them heavily to be a big part of the offense this year. "Unbelievable, I never expected the offense to come together this well this quickly," she said after the Lady Vikings squashed U Maine/Presque Isle, 6-0. The big hero or heroine, of the day was a freshman local Holly Brennan who starred at link for Salem High. McGee however saw her as more valuable on the forward line and moved her up to right wing. The move paid off in a big way. Holly's collegiate debut had become an auspicious one - four goals in her first game. So Brennan quickly became the player to watch on this team whose top players were supposed to be a solid core of returning defenders. Nesta Karner, a senior fullback, and Patty Burrows, a junior halfback, anchored the defense. Vickie Ware, senior goaltender, who like Karner and Burrows earned Mass. State College Athletic Conference All Star honors in the past, registered her first shutout of the season and the 16th of her career. Senior forward Karen Dyke and sophomore forward Kim Patience who were fourth and fifth on the team in scoring last year are also expected to pick up where they left off in 1981.

11/13	NCAA Division III Qualifier	22nd place

Individual Honors: Todd D'Antonio received All-MASCAC Honors for finishing in the top 15 (13th) at the MASCAC Championships.

Coach Dave Dunsky's cross country started the season impressively with a second-place effort at the St. Joseph's Invitational, but could not match that performance at any point after the opener. Salem State's fourth-place finish in a tight MASCAC meet was somewhat of a disappointment.

Additionally, an attempt was made at starting a women's cross country team at Salem State. Two women actually competed, and one, Clare Murnane, finished 36th out of over 200 entrants at the NCAA Division III Qualifying meet.

Coach Grant Longley's men's tennis team returned from a two year absence at the top of the MASCAC to reclaim the league title going unbeaten in league and non-league play. Salem State lost just four individual matches in seven MASCAC games, shutting out four league opponents. It was the ninth time in 12 years that Salem State has won the MASCAC tennis title.

MASCAC Standing: 1st Place

Individual Honors: Sophomore Dan Ford was named to the all MASCAC Team.

The addition of freshman Colleen Honahan and Colleen Palacios strengthened the Salem State women's tennis team in 1982, allowing coach Connie Megan's squad to easily defend its 1981 MASCAC crown and sweep to its third consecutive league title. The women lost just 6 individual matches while going undefeated (7-0) in league play. Salem State also did well against a strong non-league schedule, finishing 11-3 overall.

Individual Honors: Seven players were nominated for ECAC All-Star selections while four players were selected to the MASCAC All-Star Team. Senior co-captain Bob Bou-telle and freshman winger Don Sharry were named as forwards. Senior Peter Vasapolli who led the Vikings in scoring with 26 points, was named as a defenseman and Senior Charlie Barbour was selected as the MASCAC All-Star goal-tender for 1982-1983.

For the seventh consecutive season, the Salem State pucksters qualified for post-season play - the prestigious ECAC Division II play-offs - defeating Colby College in overtime, 5-4, before falling to archnemesis University of Lowell, 5-1, in semi-final play.

Season highlights included wins over Babson College, 4-3, in overtime, an undefeated slate against MASCAC competition overtime win at Colby in the playoffs.

BASKETBALL

The Lady Vikings qualified for the NCAA Division III Northeast Regional Tournament, held at Eastern Connecticut State University, for the first time ever. Prior to finishing as the runner-up at the NCAA Div. III N.E. Regional, Salem captured another first, winning the MAIAW Class B Championships, a 12 team post-season tournament hosted at the O'Keefe Center. The Lady Vikings also finished the regular season, posting an 8-1 won-loss record and a first place standing in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference, (MASCAC).

The first place finish in the MASCAC was another first accomplished by the 1982-1983 Salem State College women's basketball program.

Four Lady Vikings received post-season honors, with 5'5 freshman guard Evelyn Oquendo leading the honors as she was selected to three all star teams.

In addition to receiving All-MASCAC honors, Oquendo and Breitenwischer were named to the All-New England Division III Honorable Mention Team. Head Coach Tim Shea was selected to coach in the All-NE Div. III All-Star game played at WPI, after he finished runner-up in Div. III Coach of the Year voting. Oquendo was also named as one of five players to the Kodak All-District Basketball Team for District I of the Small College Division, which includes Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

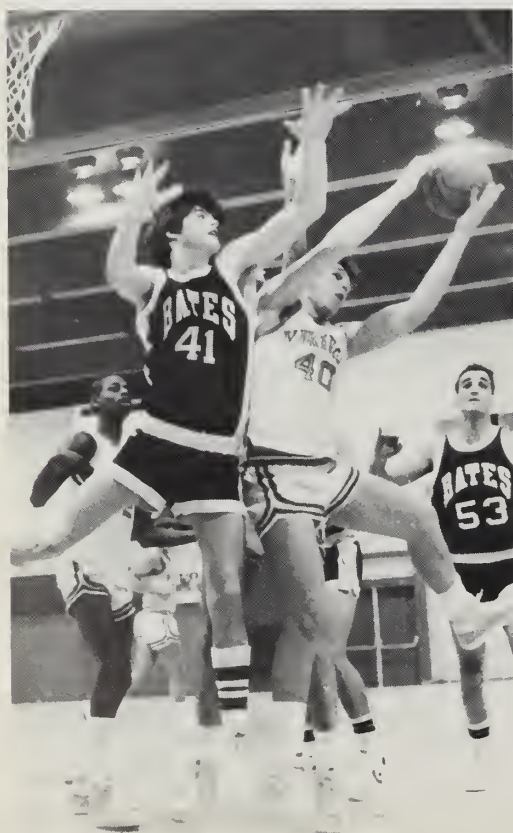

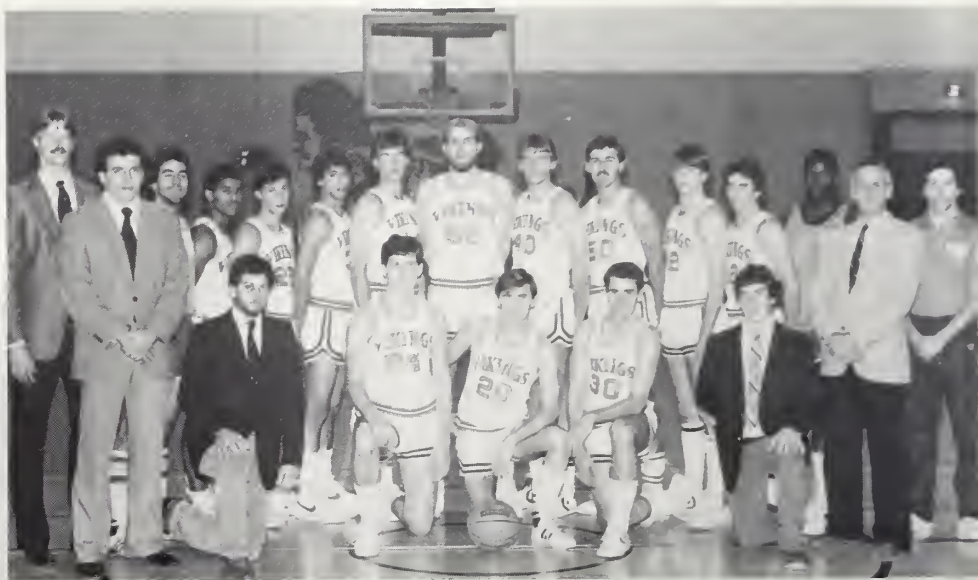

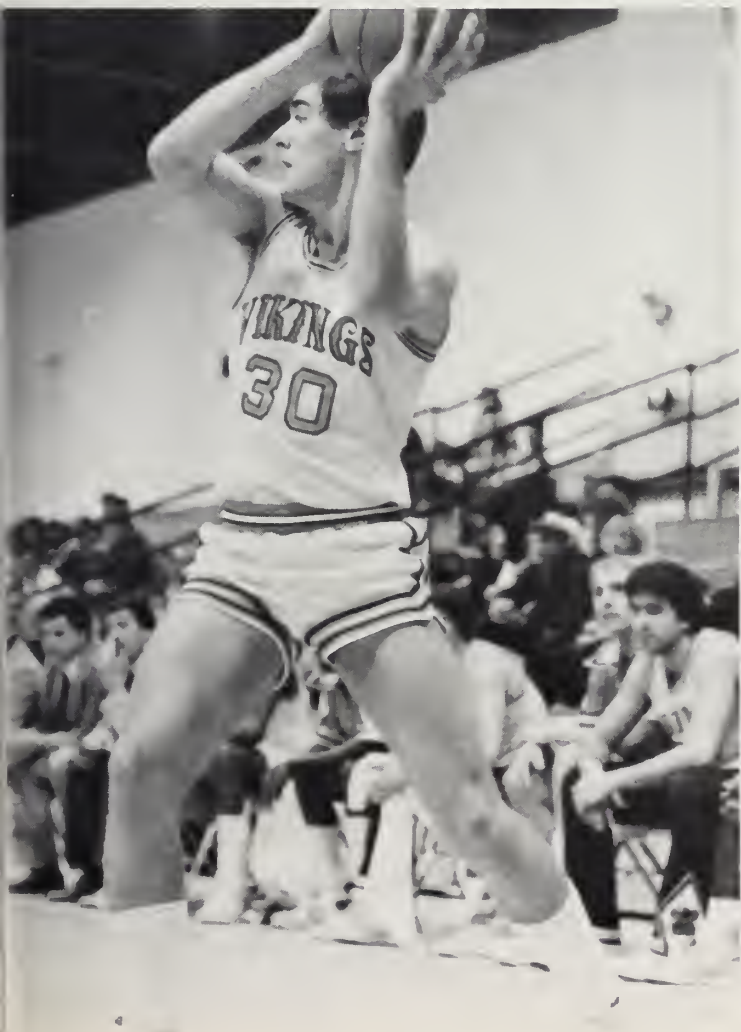

BASKETBALL

An integral member of two Viking NCAA Tournament teams during his sophomore and junior seasons, senior co-captain Pete Celona was cited as Team MVP for the 1982-1983 season. Celona was also named the recipient of the James Twohig Award. Celona finished third in scoring for the Vikings, averaging 13 points a game while shooting over 50 per cent from the field and an even 70 percent from free throw line.

Freshman center Shawn Patton from Everett, started 25 of 26 games and finished an outstanding rookie campaign, leading the Vikings in scoring with 493 points for a 19.7 average. Patton was nominated for ECAC Rookie of the Year and was named MASCAC Rookie of the Year. Patton was also named to the All-MASCAC Rookie of the year. Patton was also named to the All-MASCAC second team as a center.

The women's swimming program experienced its second straight losing season, compiling a won-loss record of two and 10. Despite a poor showing, by her squad, head coach Nancy Lindquist had something to cheer about as co-captain Paula Flint rewrote the recordbook for the O'Keefe Center Pool.

Flint set records in the 100 meter butterfly (1:13.47) and 100 meter individual medley (1:12.30), in a mid season loss to Keene State. Ten days later, Flint broke assistant coach Karen Crowley's two year school record in the 200 yard individual medley by three seconds with a time of 2:38.14 while swimming against Colby College.

Other SSC Swimmers who performed admirably throughout the season were Denise Rodrigue, Mary Tobin, Lori Ouelette and co-captain Karen Tyburski.

BASEBALL

The 1983 Baseball Team was the most successful in Salem State history, setting the record for most wins in one season (20). Under first year head Coach Perrone, the team also gained a berth in the NCAA post-season championships for the first time. SSC lost to Montclair State College, 12-4, and Upsala, 6-0, and were eliminated from the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Regionals.

Individual Honors: Junior second baseman Jim Deady was voted MVP by his teammates.

4/24-26 New England Intercollegiate Golf Association (NEIGA)	4th place
4/29-5/1 Northeast Golf Classic	6th place
5/17-20 NCAA Division III Golf Championships	12th place

For the 15th consecutive year, George Jacobson's linksters qualified for the NCAA Division III Golf Championships. After capturing a record 10th MASCAC Title in the Fall of 1982, SSC embarked on one of its toughest Spring schedules ever. Competing against the best golf schools from New England's three divisions, SSC fared well enough to be awarded yet another NCAA bid.

Prior to the NCAA Championships, the Vikings recorded a first place finish at their own invitational tourney, a second at the Mass. Invitational, a fourth at the NEIGA and a sixth place showing at the Northeast Golf Classic.

The team held sixth place at the nationals heading into the final round, but faltered and had to settle for a 12th place finish.

Individual Honors: Junior captain John Hogan was selected to All-New England Honorable Mention Golf Team and sophomore Tom Dyer was named Team MVP.

DEDICATION

This year, the 1983 Clipper yearbook is dedicated to two individuals. Although each works in a different capacity for the College, both individuals consider serving the students of Salem State College as their priority.

There are two types of education students receive in college. One type is our academic education or what we learn in the classroom and the other is learning the responsibilities of adulthood. Often times, we are overwhelmed by the problems typical to college students whether it be learning to deal with bureaucratic red tape or resolving a personal problem. In their own way, each of these individuals have always offered the support, guidance and patience students need to develop and grow into responsible adults; preparing us for our life after college.

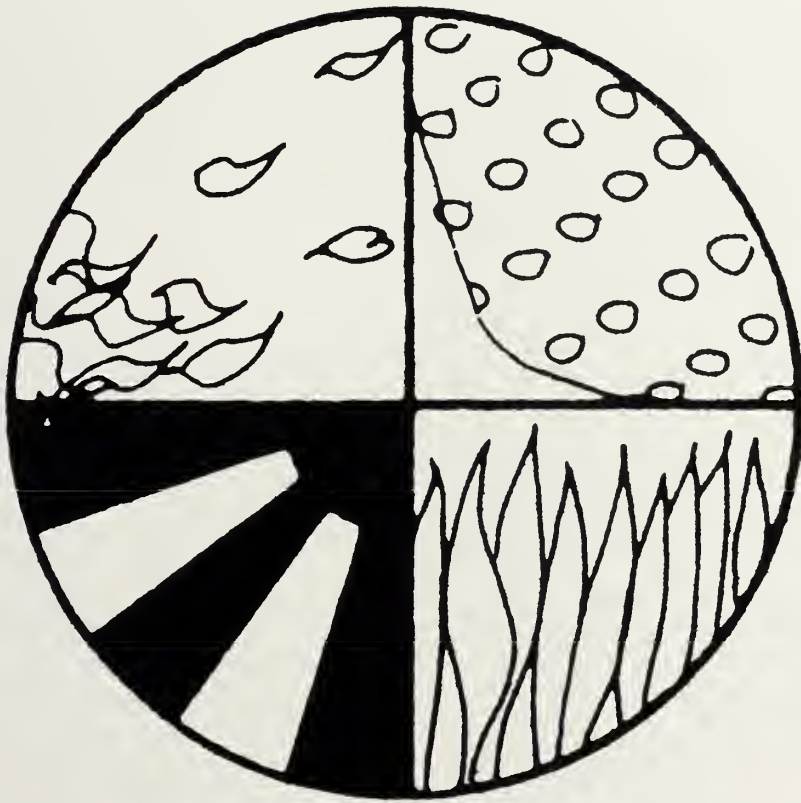

We, the students, would like to take this opportunity to show that the efforts of these individuals do not go unrecognized. The dedication of the yearbook to Dr. Winston E. Thompson, Vice President of Student Services and Mrs. Nora Barrett, a staff member of the Fiscal Affairs Office, is our way of expressing our gratitude and deep appreciation for their dedication to the students and Salem State College. It is therefore fitting that they were presented a reproduction of the 1983 Clipper yearbook cover illustrating the theme of the four seasons.

1983 is an important and impressive year for the Art Major Program at Salem State College. It has been eight years since the start of the program in 1975. From the original graduating class of ten majors in 1979, we have grown to over one hundred majors and the present graduating class of thirty-two. We are proud of the academic and artistic merit of these students many of whom are graduating with academic and creative honors in recognition of their achievements.

In addition, this class includes the first majors graduating with concentrations in the new professional preparation of Graphic Design as well as the first three majors completing the program through continuing education. We in the department wish them all the best in their field of art and welcome them as active alumni of the Art Department and of Salem State College.

ABOUT THE STAFF

IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING THAT AN EDITOR NEEDS HELP FROM EVERY POSSIBLE SOURCE. THESE HELPERS, ALL WITH DIFFERENT SKILLS, WERE INDISPENSABLE TO ME. FROM THE PEOPLE WHO LOOKED THROUGH THE HUNDREDS OF PHOTOS TO FIND PICTURES OF CURRENT STUDENTS TO THOSE WHO WROTE COPY - ALL WERE VERY IMPORTANT IN COMPLETING THE 1983 YEARBOOK. TOM KEELEY'S POSITIVE ATTITUDE AND WILLINGNESS TO ACTIVELY HELP US WILL ALWAYS BE APPRECIATED. BETSY'S REWRITES, TYPING AND SIZING OF COPY SAVED MANY A LAYOUT PAGE. THE PATIENCE AND ENCOURAGEMENT OF HELEN FELT MADE THIS LABOR OF LOVE AN ACCOMPLISHMENT. CLAIRE SWANSON'S LAYOUT FOR THE FACULTY SECTION IS A JOB WELL DONE UNDER VERY TRYING CIRCUMSTANCES. MY GRATITUDE TO LEON, MARK AND ESPECIALLY MY PHOTOGRAPHIC EDITOR, CRAIG JACKSON, FOR THEIR EFFORTS. MY LAST THANKS TO MY STAFF WOULD BE AMISS IF I DIDN'T INCLUDE THE SMALL PARAGRAPHS I ASKED ROBIN AND JOEL TO GIVE ME.

ROBIN FARREN, A MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF '84, IS CURRENTLY AN ART MAJOR AT SALEM STATE. ROBIN, A NATIVE OF MALDEN, PLANS TO PURSUE A CAREER AS A GRAPHIC DESIGNER. IN 1983, SHE WAS AWARDED THE PRESIDENTIAL CREATIVITY AWARD AND IS THE DESIGNER OF THE COVER AND SEASONAL DIVIDERS FOR THE 1983 YEARBOOK. BECAUSE OF ROBIN'S OUTSTANDING TALENT, SHE HAS BEEN ASKED TO DESIGN THE 1983 PUBLIC RELATIONS INSTITUTE PAMPHLET AND THE CURRENT MASTERS OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION BOOKLET COVER. ROBIN IS ACTIVELY INVOLVED IN THE SALEM STATE COLLEGE ART SOCIETY AND PRESENTLY SERVES AS THE ORGANIZATION'S TREASURER.

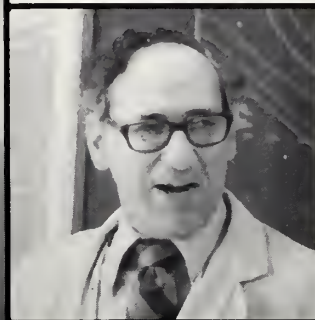

JOEL STEIN IS AN ART MAJOR FROM SPRINGFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS WHO IS ALSO A MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF '84. UPON GRADUATION JOEL INTENDS TO WRITE AND DIRECT FILMS. HE CURRENTLY SERVES AS PRESIDENT OF THE SALEM STATE COLLEGE ART SOCIETY. HE ENJOYS WRITING SHORT STORIES AND POETRY. JOEL HAS HAD SOME OF HIS POETRY PUBLISHED IN SOUNDINGS EAST AND HE OCCASIONALLY WRITES ARTICLES FOR THE LOG.

I AM VERY PROUD TO HAVE HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO WORK WITH THESE TWO TALENTED PEOPLE. THEY WILL BE VERY FAMOUS IN THEIR CHOSEN FIELDS, OF THAT I HAVE NO DOUBT. THE EXCITEMENT GENERATED BY THEIR ARTISTIC APPROACHES TO WHATEVER TASK I ASKED OF THEM WILL ALWAYS BE AN EXAMPLE TO ME OF THE CONSUMMATE PROFESSIONAL.

Florence Alexander

"I love my C-students, they are so sincere and get so much out of their reading, I wish I had an entire class of C-students, they're such a pleasure." One of the great teachers of our lives; attentive, thoughtful, curious, strong, resilient, humorous, intelligent, dignified, exciting, patient, loyal, compassionate, expectant, I will never forget the daily lessons learned.

James Centorino

James Centorino will truly be missed by the students and faculty of Salem State College and the community. Professor Centorino, a long-time faculty member in the Geography Department and the Marine Science Institute was gifted with both the art and science of teaching. As a professor, he always worked diligently, quietly and seriously with his students yet he possessed a subtle wit about him. His dedication in promoting marine science education on the North Shore and his willingness to get involved with his community will never be forgotten. Thank you Jim . . . for everything.

John (Jack) M. Devlin, Jr.

Jack Devlin began teaching at Salem State College in the Business Administration Department in the fall semester of 1982. Though only here for a short period of time, Mr. Devlin gained respect and admiration as a faculty member and a friend. He was a thoughtful man who gave generously of his time, so we, the students of Salem State College, would like to take this time to say - Thank You.

William J. Monagle

Bill Monagle, a member of the Business Administration Faculty for five years, was a dedicated professor of quality education. He was a mentor and a friend to all those students who were fortunate enough to experience the enthusiasm generated from such a loyal educator. We have been touched by this man and will continue to strive towards our goals built on the foundation that he has begun for us.
